Panthers Win OT Thriller; Gain MVC's Automatic Bid

(AP) -- UNI shared the Missouri Valley regular-season title with Creighton. The Panthers celebrated alone after winning the conference tournament.

Ali Farokhmanesh scored eight of the Panthers' 12 points in overtime, helping the top seed overcome an Illinois State rally fueled by tournament MOP Osiris Eldridge in a 60-57 victory in the championship game.

Kwadzo Ahelegbe had 17 points and hit two free throws with 16 seconds left in OT for the go-ahead points, helping Northern Iowa earn the conference's automatic bid to the NCAA tournament. The Panthers matched a school record for victories while earning their first MVC tournament title since 2004.

Eldridge had 21 points and hit five 3-pointers after a scoreless first half. He became just the second player in league history to win tournament Most Outstanding Player honors from a non-winning team.

UNI was 3-0 against Illinois State in 2008-09, with another victory in double-overtime and all three decided by a total of nine points.

• The semifinals and finals crowds of 22,612 at the 2007 State Farm MVC Tournament set an all-time basketball attendance record for Scottrade Center - and marked the only two sellouts in State Farm MVC Tournament history in St. Louis. The 22,612 surpassed the previous MVC Tournament attendance record for a championship game - 14,911, established on March 10, 2003, in the final which featured Creighton and Southern Illinois.

• The crowd of 22,612 was the largest of any conference tournament championship game in 2007, surpassing the ACC (22,269), the Big East (19,594) and the Big 12 (18,879).

State Farm Missouri Valley Conference Tournament

The Missouri Valley Conference will conduct its 20th St. Louis-based post-season men's basketball championship, when the State Farm Missouri Valley Conference Tournament takes the hardwood at Scottrade Center, formerly known as Savvis Center, on March 4-7, 2010.

The Missouri Valley Conference Tournament, also known uniquely as "Arch Madness" to Valley fans, will be played at Scottrade Center for the 16th time. With 20-straight years at the same neutral site, Arch Madness is the second-longest neutral site tenured collegiate tourney in the nation.

The tournament -- for the fifth-straight year -- will begin a day earlier and end a day earlier (Thursday through Sunday). From 1997-2005, the tournament had started on a Friday and ended on a Monday.

State Farm Insurance, a longtime league corporate partner and title sponsor of the MVC's women's volleyball and women's basketball championships since 1995, returns for its 11th season as the men's basketball tournament title sponsor.

State Farm and the Missouri Valley are in an agreement which gives State Farm title sponsorship of all of the league championships. Also, State Farm is a prominent sponsor of the league's television network and a sponsor of the Missouri Valley Conference's community outreach program, "Just Read!"

"The Missouri Valley Conference is in the midst of a tremendous renaissance, and State Farm Insurance has been a cornerstone of that resurgence," says Doug Elgin, commissioner of the Missouri Valley Conference.

"State Farm's involvement with our men's and women's championships and television network package has been one of the keys to the Conference's rise to prominence," said Elgin, who is the league's longest-tenured commissioner.

The State Farm MVC Tournament site has moved from Kiel Auditorium (1991) to the Saint Louis Arena (1992-1994) to Scottrade Center (1995-present). In 2009, the tournament drew more than 42,000 fans for a 14th-straight year.

The 2007 turnstile of 85,074 set a league record in the league's tournament history in St. Louis. Last year's figure of 54,399 was fifth-best in the history of the tournament, while the league has had a tournament turnstile of better than 50,000 in each of the past seven seasons.

Since the Conference moved its tournament to St. Louis in 1991, some of the greatest moments in Valley men's basketball history have occurred in the Gateway City.

In 1995, Southern Illinois completed a three-peat at the Conference tournament -- the only time a league school has won three consecutive tourney championships.

In the 1996 semis, Bradley's Deon Jackson hit an improbable three-pointer with no time remaining for a 64-62 win over Missouri State. His shot was nominated for an ESPN "ESPY Award" for the college basketball play of the year.

In 1998, Illinois State took its second-straight regular-season and conference tournament titles -- the first time in Missouri Valley Conference history that a school had accomplished that feat.

UNI's 2004 title and subsequent NCAA bid gave the Panthers their first tournament berth as an MVC member. With that, all 10 current members have represented the Missouri Valley Conference in the NCAA Tournament.

And in 2005, UNI was eliminated in the quarterfinals of the tournament and still received an at-large berth into the NAAs. That marked the first time a team that failed to advance to the MVC tournament semis earned a spot in the NCAA tourney.

State Farm Missouri Valley Conference Tournament

The 2007 State Farm MVC Tournament established league records every session: opening (8,013), day quarterfinal (15,186), night quarterfinal (16,651), semifinal (22,612), championship (22,612) and total tournament attendance (85,074).

The 2008 Tournament marked the first time the top-seeded team won the title since Illinois State swept the regular-season and tournament titles during the 1997-98 season. In fact, that's now happened two times in a row, as top-seeded UNI won last year's tournament.

2009 Tournament Review

UNI defeated Illinois State, 60-57, in overtime, marking just the fourth time an MVC Tournament championship game was decided in overtime.

It was the second tournament championship for the Panthers, who also won a league tournament title in 2004 (ironically, also in overtime).

A pair of Panthers reached double figures in the title game, including Kwadzo Ahelegbe and Ali Farokhmanesh. Ahelegbe joined teammate Adam Koch on the all-tournament team. Koch had a quiet title game on the scoresheet, but he averaged 20 points in UNI's first two tournament wins.

Illinois State's title run was led by tournament Most Outstanding Player Osiris Eldridge, who scored 21 points in the title game -- all of them coming after a scoreless first half.

For the second-straight year, Illinois State lost the title game to the tournament's top seed, as the Redbirds fell to top-seeded Drake in 2008.

Eldridge was joined on the all-tournament team by teammate Chamberlain Oguchi, who scored 14 points in the final. Creighton's Booker Woodfox - the league's Larry Bird Player of the Year - was also a member of the five-member team.

2010 Tournament Notes

The quarterfinal and semifinal games will be on FS Midwest and Comcast SportsNet, while there is no television for the opening round.

The State Farm MVC Championship game will be telecast live on CBS (more than 100 million homes) for a fifth-straight year. The 2006 tournament broadcast by CBS marked the first over-the-air national broadcast of an MVC game since Jan. 28, 1989, when BYU beat Wichita State, 93-92.

UNI will be looking to become the first team to repeat as tournament champion since Creighton won back-to-back tournament crowns in 2002 and 2003.

Tournament Tiebreaker System

Regular-season standings are the determining factor in setting first-round pairings for the State Farm Missouri Valley Conference Tournament.

All ties will be broken starting at the top of the conference standings and working down. The tie-breaking system for seeding of the State Farm Missouri Valley Conference Tournament, regardless of whether a tie involves two or more teams, will utilize the following factors, in order, until all ties are broken.

Two-way Ties

1. Records in head-to-head competition are compared, with the higher seed going to the team that has won the most games against the other.
2. If head-to-head competition does not break the tie, the deadlock will be broken by a power-rating system, using league games. The team among the tying institutions with the better point total will receive the higher seed.
3. In the event this process does not resolve the ties, the seeding shall be determined by RPI.

Multiple Ties

1. If three or more teams are tied, regular-season competition among the tied schools shall be pooled into a "mini round-robin." Teams shall be ranked according to their position in such a round-robin.
2. In the event this process does not solve the multiple ties, the deadlock will be broken by a power-rating system, using league games. The team among the tying institutions with the better point total will receive the higher seed.
3. In the event this process does not resolve the ties, the seeding shall be determined by RPI.

Ben Jacobson leads UNI to the Panthers' first tournament title - a 79-74 2OT thriller in 2004.

In 2006, Wichita State becomes the first MVC school to eclipse 2,500 all-session tourney ticket sales.

2009 - Illinois State's Osiris Eldridge is only the 2nd to win MVP honors from runner-up team.

Michael Menser of Indiana State hoists the 2001 championship trophy - he scores 32 in the semis against CU.

Drake's Adam Emmenecker leads the Bulldogs to a regular-season and tournament sweep in 2008.

Creighton's Booker Woodfox stuns Wichita State, 63-62, with the buzzer-beater in 2009 quarterfinals.
