Ninth-Seeded Evansville Makes Improbable Run, Claims State Farm MVC Women's Basketball Championship

SAINT CHARLES, Mo. - Ninth-seeded Evansville became the lowest-seeded team to claim the State Farm MVC Women's Basketball Championship title, after an improbable postseason run and a last-second shot, giving the Purple Aces a 47-45 win over Creighton.

The win clinched the second MVC Tournament title for Evansville and gave the Purple Aces the conference's automatic bid to the NCAA Tournament, where they dropped an 80-45 decision to No. 2 seed Texas A&M.

Evansville advanced to the championship game with a 58-53 opening-round win over No. 8 Southern Illinois, a 73-60 quarterfinal victory over top-seeded Illinois State and a 84-81 overtime semifinal win over a fourth-seeded Bradley.

Creighton advanced to its second MVC Championship title game in three seasons from the No. 2 seed, downing Wichita State, 49-41, in the quarterfinals and 53-35 decision against No. 3 seed Drake in the semifinal.

Creighton surprised the league after being picked sixth in the preseason poll. Led by Player of the Year Christy Neneman and Rawlings Coach of the Year Connie Yori, the Bluejays won the regular-season and tournament titles and represented the league in the NCAA Tournament. Drake received an at-large NCAA bid and advanced to the Sweet 16 with wins against Syracuse and second-seeded Baylor. Missouri State also qualified for postseason play, as the Lady Bears hosted Eastern Kentucky in the WNIT.

Creighton's 13-5 MVC record earned it a share of the regular season title for the second consecutive season. It marked the first time the Jays have won back-to-back titles in the MVC, plus Christy Neneman earned Player of the Year honors for the second time. During the previous five seasons, the MVC had earned two spots in the NCAA Tournament, but after Missouri State, the No. 4 tournament seed, won the conference championship and the league's NCAA automatic berth, three other Valley teams enjoyed postseason in the WNIT. Indiana State, UNI and Creighton participated in the WNIT, with the Jays advancing to the field of four before falling to Auburn, 73-62. Indiana State's Jim Wiedie was voted the Rawlings Coach of the Year.

Once again, the Valley sent its top three teams to postseason play, as Missouri State, Drake and Creighton represented the conference. Missouri State collected its second-straight Valley Tournament title and staged a dramatic duel at Notre Dame. Missouri State lost by four points in OT to the Irish after recovering from a 16-point deficit. Creighton made an early exit from the league championship as UNI upset the Jays in the opening round, but an invite to the WNIT, reignited Jim Flanery's team. Creighton drove through the 32-team bracket and earned the MVC's first national title in women's basketball.

Illinois State became the Cinderella team in 2005, winning the MVC Tournament at the No. 8 seed and being one of three Valley schools to make it to postseason play. The Redbirds lost to eventual NCAA Tournament Champion Baylor in the first round of the NCAA Tourney while Missouri State won the WNIT after storming through four home wins en route to its first postseason title. At the Valley Tournament, Bradley, Creighton, Missouri State and Evansville exited after day one while UNI and Drake fell in the semis.

Missouri State won four games in four days en route to its third tournament title in four years. The Bears, the No. 7 seed, were the lone Valley representative in the NCAA Tournament, and they suffered a first-round loss to Purdue at the national tournament. Including MSU, four schools represented the league in postseason play as UNI, Drake and Indiana State all played in the WNIT. The Panthers and Bulldogs suffered first-round defeats, while the Sycamores fell in the second round to Indiana. At the Valley Tournament, the Sycamores were on pace to clinch their first Valley Tournament Title but fell at the arms of the Bears in the championship game.

Drake won four games in four days en route to its State Farm MVC Women's Basketball Tournament Title. The Bulldogs, as a No. 8 seed, matched Illinois State's 2005 tournament title in that the lowest-seeded team won the title. Drake suffered a first-round loss to eventual national champion Tennessee in the first round of the NCAA Tournament. Three schools represented the league in postseason play as Southern Illinois and Illinois State played in the WNIT. Both the Salukis and Redbirds advanced to the second round of the postseason tournament.

Illinois State claimed the first neutral-site State Farm MVC Women's Basketball Tournament title at The Family Arena in St. Charles, Mo. The top-seeded Redbirds became the first school in four years to win the tournament from the No. 1 seed. Four Missouri Valley Conference teams made postseason appearances -- Illinois State in the NCAA Tournament and Creighton, Drake and Evansville in the WNIT. Illinois State fell to Oklahoma in the first round of the NCAA Tournament while the Valley's WNIT participants each claimed an opening round win.

Ninth-seeded Evansville became the lowest-seeded team to claim the State Farm MVC Women's Basketball Tournament title, after an improbable postseason run and a last-second shot to give the Purple Aces a 47-45 win over Creighton. The Aces were the lone Valley representative in the NCAA Tournament, suffering a first-round loss to Texas A&M. Two other MVC schools -- Illinois State and Creighton -- made postseason appearances in the WNIT. The Redbirds made their deepest postseason run in program history, eventually falling victim to Kansas, 75-72, in the WNIT semifinals. Ironically, the Jays also lost to Kansas in the WNIT second-round, following a first-round victory over UC Riverside.

MVC in the Ratings Percentage Index (RPI)

The Ratings Percentage Index (RPI) is a computer-generated rating system that was developed for and is used by both the men's and women's NCAA basketball committees to assist in the selection of at-large teams for the NCAA basketball championships. The RPI was first used by the men's committee in 1981 and consists of three factors (team's Division I winning percentage, team's schedule strength, and team's opponents' schedule strength.) Below is a listing of annual season-ending RPIs for The Valley and its members (information courtesy of Jim Sukup, Collegiate Basketball News -- data unavailable prior to 1991-92; RPI numbers are from full season rankings).

WBCA Academic Excellence

Women's Basketball Coaches Association Top-25 GPA in Division I Basketball

Four Missouri Valley Conference Women's Basketball teams were honored by the Women's Basketball Coaches Association as having Top-25 grade point averages in Division I women's hoops for the 2008-09 season. Indiana State University, boasting a team grade point average of 3.645 ranks first amongst Division I teams while Evansville, UNI and Wichita State were also honored.

For the fifth-straight year, a Valley school has ranked in the top three in WBCA Top-25. Indiana State held the No. 1 spot back in 2004-05, finishing with the highest women's basketball GPA in Division I, while South Dakota State was closely behind at No. 2. In 2005-06, the Sycamores finished second, behind South Dakota State. UNI came in second in 2006-07, while Indiana State took the top position in 2008-09 for the third time in program history.

UNI's 6th-place showing marks the fourth-straight season the Panthers have earned a spot in the top 10.

This is the second time in three years the Purple Aces have been honored and the second-straight honor for the Shockers, each time finishing higher in the final rankings.

GPA's are calculated by dividing the total number of quality points earned by each student-athlete on an institution's roster in the given academic terms by the total number of hours earned by the team.
